They had a few minor water leaks they fixed, had looked at the Justice Center where there is an erosion issue for the purpose of marking sewer lines. Luke Price brought up the LED lights and reported the study done by Harshaw Trane did not find any meters that tested below 99%. He also reported an 8th grade girl, Emily Fultz, had used her savings money to provide pizza for the Sherrifs Dept and the Police Department for appreciation of their services. Both agencies were planning a recognition with a plaque to her for a Good Citizen award.
